5.2 Security by You and Your Users. You and Your Users shall have sole and exclusive responsibility for the security and privacy of Your Communications Channels and Bandwidth and of information passing through, resident therein, or removed therefrom. You, Your Users, Your Hosts and guests shall be responsible for implementing and maintaining the security of User IDs, passwords and account designations registered with MEGAMEETING while such information is in the possession or control of You and them, including without limitation, during transit or residence in Your Communications Channels and Bandwidth. You are entirely responsible for activities conducted, and for errors and omissions, by You and by Your Users, including preservation and protection of the confidentiality of the User IDs, passwords, and account information of You and Your Users while in the possession or control of You and Your Users, and in communications channels you and they use.

EULA

You are entirely responsible for communications content transmitted via your use of MEGAMEETING Enterprise and Private Branded Enterprise products and services.. You agree that you and your Users shall (a) make certain to fully exit from accounts at the end of each session, and (b) You and Your Users shall immediately notify MegaMeeting.com in writing (which may be by email to admin@MegaMeeting.com) if there is any unauthorized use of an account or password or other security breach. MegaMeeting.com and Internet MegaMeeting, LLC, and its employees, agents, affiliates and contractors shall not be liable for any cost, loss, damage, liability or claim which arises or is alleged to arise from failure to comply with this section.

5.3 'MEGAMEETING Communications Channels and Bandwith' mean communications channels and bandwidth for data solely during the time that data is passing through or stored within the computer servers physically controlled by MEGAMEETING.

5.4 'MEGAMEETING's Contracted Computer-Servers and Bandwidth' shall mean computer-servers and bandwidth that are supplied by independent contractors to MEGAMEETING (whether by license, lease or other contract) and which are utilized in the provision of MEGAMEETING Services to You and Your Users. MEGAMEETING does not warrant, expressly or impliedly, nor guarantee, nor act as an insurer of, the conduct, services, security or product of such independent contractors. The Disclaimer of Warranties and the Limitations and Exclusions of Damages stated below shall apply to any claim arising out of or related to 'MEGAMEETING's Contracted Computer-Servers and Bandwidth.'

5.5. Security By MegaMeeting. MEGAMEETING shall be directly responsible only for the physical security and internal network security of computers physically controlled by MEGAMEETING. MEGAMEETING's responsibilities shall be strictly limited to implementing the physical and internal network security of computers physically controlled by MEGAMEETING. MEGAMEETING shall have no responsibility whatsoever (i) for physical and network security of computers of You and Your Users, or (ii) for any computers not physically controlled by MEGAMEETING, or (iii) for communication content that You and Your Users (including Unauthorized Users) transmit without effective encryption via the MEGAMEETING Private Branded Enterprise Product or via any other MEGAMEETING products and services.

You acknowledge that MEGAMEETING has no ability and no duty to monitor or control the security which You, Your Users, Hosts, guests and Unauthorized Users employ with respect to your and their USER IDs, passwords, account designations and communications content when that information is outside MEGAMEETING Communications Channels and Bandwidth, or when You or Your Users transmit unencrypted communications content. You agree that you shall immediately notify MEGAMEETING in writing (which may be by email to admin@MegaMeeting.com) if there is any unauthorized use of a User ID, account designation, or password of You or of any of Your Users or any other security breach (even if such breach is or may be a breach in MEGAMEETING Communications and Bandwidth). MEGAMEETING shall not be liable for any cost, loss, damage or liability which arises or is alleged to arise from Your failure to comply with this section.

5.6 Communications Content of You and Your Users; Encryption. You and Your Users shall be solely and exclusively responsible, and MEGAMEETING and MEGAMEETING's contractors shall have absolutely no responsibility, for the content of communications which is transmitted via Your use of the MEGAMEETING Private Branded Enterprise Product and other MEGAMEETING Products and Service through computers employed by You and Your Users and contractors ('Communications Content of You and Your Users' or 'Your Communications Content'). If You or Your Users wish to keep the content of communications secure, then You or Your Users must encrypt such information, and maintain the security of encryption codes and keys, independently of MegaMeeting. This is because MegaMeeting does not control the security of Your Communications Channels and Bandwidth or the channels and bandwidth of third parties that may be used in transmissions to and from MEGAMEETING Communications Channels and Bandwidth. You acknowledge that transmission of information on the internet has inherent security risks. If You or Your User transmits unencrypted communications content, then there shall be a presumption affecting the burden of producing evidence that such communications content was not confidential. You agree that MegaMeeting and its computer-server and bandwidth contractors are not guarantors or insurers of the confidentiality and security of the communications content of You and Your Users. You acknowledge that You and Your Users can purchase insurance to insure against breaches of data security and confidentiality. You agree that MegaMeeting need not undertake any burden of proving where in the chain of transit an alleged breach of the confidentiality of Your Communications Content occurred. You agree that if You or Your User claims that a breach of the security or confidentiality of Your Communications Content occurred in MEGAMEETING Communications Channels and Bandwidth or occurred during MEGAMEETING recording and storage, then You and Your User must bear the burden of proving such claim by clear and convincing evidence.

If you desire a higher level of confidentiality of Communications Content of You and Your Users, then you must obtain a separate written commitment to such higher level of confidentiality in a writing signed by an LLC manager of Internet MegaMeeting, LLC.

5.7 Recording and Storage by MEGAMEETING. MegaMeeting does not undertake to record and store any communications content of You and Your Users except in a writing signed by an authorized MegaMeeting officer which states the terms and conditions and limitations for such recordation and storage. You acknowledge that there may be transient storage incidental to computer operations to transmit information through MEGAMEETING Communications and Bandwidth (such as, for non-limiting example, temporary storage in computer Random Access Memory ('RAM')). You agree that MEGAMEETING shall not have any duty to record, store or preserve such transient information absent an express, prior written undertaking by MEGAMEETING to record and store it, and you acknowledge that it may be practically unfeasible or impossible to preserve such transient information. You agree that MEGAMEETING may purge or destroy such transient information either automatically or manually. There are additional provisions below if You have contracted to have MEGAMEETING record and store communications content of Your or Your Users on computers owned or controlled by MEGAMEETING.

5.8. Litigation Holds. You agree that if a burden is imposed upon MEGAMEETING to store, hold or produce information arising from use by You or Your User of MEGAMEETING products or services, and related to a claim, dispute or legal proceeding, then you shall bear and pay to MEGAMEETING and MEGAMEETING's contractors the reasonable, market worth of labor, costs and expenses (including without limitation, fees and charges of experts, advisors and attorneys), of collecting, holding, storing and producing such information.

5.9 MegaMeeting Privacy Policy. The Privacy Policy which MEGAMEETING posts from time to time on

EULA

MEGAMEETING's web site shall be applied to the information of You and Your Users while such information is within MEGAMEETING Communications Channels and Bandwidth, or is recorded and stored by MEGAMEETING other than transiently. You shall so inform Your Users in writing and obtain their affirmative assent to the Privacy Policy of MEGAMEETING or its equivalent. MEGAMEETING shall not have any obligation to follow a Privacy Policy created by You unless so agreed in a writing signed by an LLC manager of MegaMeeting.

6. Links to Websites of Other Persons

MegaMeeting.com may provide links to websites of persons other than MegaMeeting.com and Internet MegaMeeting, LLC. Those links to other persons are provided solely as a courtesy without any representation or warranty as to their content, use, or terms. Your use of such other websites is subject to the terms and conditions and privacy policies, if any, of the persons who control such other websites and you use them at your own risk. MegaMeeting.com cannot control such websites of other persons.

7. Eligibility

If you are a child (under the age of 18 years), or lack legal competency, then the Services of MegaMeeting.com Services are not available to you; do not use the Services. If you are under the age of 18, or are subject to a legal guardianship, then you can use MegaMeeting.com and the Services only if your legal guardian or representative first agrees with us that you may use MegaMeeting.com and the Services and then supervises your use of MegaMeeting.com and the Services.

PERSONS UNDER THE AGE OF FOURTEEN (14) YEARS ARE NOT ELIGIBLE TO USE THE MEGAMEETING.COM WEB SITE OR THE MEGAMEETING SERVICES, EVEN WITH THE APPROVAL AND UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF A PARENT OR GUARDIAN. IF YOU ARE UNDER THE AGE OF FOURTEEN YEARS THEN IMMEDIATELY LEAVE THIS WEB SITE. DO NOT ATTEMPT TO REGISTER AS A MEMBER AND DO NOT PROVIDE US WITH ANY OF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION.

8. Interstate and International Use

You recognize that the Internet is global in nature. The MegaMeeting.com Website and the Services of MegaMeeting.com are intended to be offered only in jurisdictions where the Website and Services and the manner in which they are offered are lawful. If the Website or Services of MegaMeeting.com are not lawful in the nation, state, or other jurisdiction where you are located, then do not use or attempt to use MegaMeeting.com or the Services in that place. If you are accessing or using MegaMeeting.com or the Services in any nation, state or other jurisdiction which restricts such access or usage, then you shall abide by the laws of that place and refrain from any access or use as required by the laws of the applicable jurisdiction. You also agree that you shall comply with all applicable laws concerning transmission of technical data, including without limitation, the export of technical data from the United States or from the jurisdiction in which you reside or are accessing MegaMeeting.com.

9. Effective Date

This Agreement takes effect immediately upon completion of registration by a new user. This Agreement applies to all others who use, or continue to use, MegaMeeting.com or the Services of MegaMeeting.com after January 1, 2014, as amended at the time(s) such use occurred.

10. Amended Terms and Conditions

We reserve the right to change the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the Privacy Policy from time to time by posting the changes on the MegaMeeting.com website, or by notice to the most-recent email address specified in your registration as a Member, or such other method as we deem reasonable and practicable under the circumstances. You agree that your subsequent use or continued use of MegaMeeting.com or the Services on or after the date posted changes take effect constitutes your consent to the amended terms and conditions. Except for such changes posted by us, this Agreement may only be amended in writing signed by an authorized officer of Internet MegaMeeting, LLC. In non-urgent situations we will post the changes on MegaMeeting.com for a period of thirty days before those changes take effect, after which those changes automatically shall take effect for uses, transactions and communications on and after the effective date. When we in our sole discretion deem a situation to be urgent or to constitute an emergency then we may implement immediate changes of terms and conditions for immediate application in then-current and future uses by such posting on the MegaMeeting.com website, or such other method of notice, as we deem to be reasonable and practical in such urgent or emergency circumstances, and we will state the date such changes will take effect. In particular, we reserve the right to halt, interrupt, or prevent your use of MegaMeeting.com without prior notice.

11. Termination of This Agreement

This is an agreement at will, which either you or we may terminate, with or without cause. You may terminate this Agreement only by giving written notice of termination to MegaMeeting.com and ceasing all further use of MegaMeeting.com and the Services. If you decide after you have entered into this Agreement that you no longer wish to agree with any term or condition of this Agreement, as it may be amended from time to time, then your only remedy is to terminate this Agreement by written notice, to cease use, and to refrain from further use MegaMeeting.com and its Services.

EULA

If you terminate this Agreement then you must cease all use of, and remove from your computer(s), any software associated with MegaMeeting.com and the Services; and you must destroy any copies of such software, except only that you shall not destroy matter which is reasonably likely to be or to become material evidence in judicial or arbitration proceedings.

If you violate any terms or conditions of this Agreement then we may terminate this Agreement without notice to you.

Following termination of this Agreement this Agreement will survive for the limited purpose of governing rights, obligations and responsibilities which arise from events and transactions that occurred prior to such termination; but no right will survive for continued or future use of MegaMeeting.com or the Services. For example, if you incur charges, liabilities, or obligations to MegaMeeting.com which have not yet been paid or discharged at the time you terminate then you remain obligated to pay such charges and to discharge such liabilities and obligations after you terminate. As a further example, your obligations to respect our copyrights, trademarks, and other intellectual property continue after termination.

If you give written notice of termination, but continue or resume use of MegaMeeting.com or the Services then MegaMeeting.com may elect in its sole discretion to deem your termination to be ineffective, but retains its rights to immediately terminate, block or restrict your use without notice.

12. Your User's Information; Your Information

As a user you and your computer necessarily must supply information to access, register and use MegaMeeting.com and the Services. You may choose, or your computer may automatically function, to send information to us, or exchange it with us and others during the course of your use of MegaMeeting.com and the Services. Your User's Information (also called "Your Information") is defined for the purposes of this Agreement to mean the content and the form of any and all information which you or your computer provide to us, or cause or permit other persons to transmit to us, in connection with:

(i) your accessing of the MegaMeeting.com domain, or any subdomains or linked domains of Internet MegaMeeting, LLC., or the MegaMeeting.com website or pages;

(ii) your logging on to MegaMeeting.com;

(ii) your registration to become a Member of MegaMeeting.com;

(iii) any email or other communications you have with MegaMeeting.com or Internet MegaMeeting, LLC or its employees or agents; and

(iv) your financial and other transactions with MegaMeeting.com. or Internet MegaMeeting, LLC.

"Your User's Information" is distinguished from, and does not include, communications between you and third parties by use of MegaMeeting.com and the Services, which are defined under the topics “Your Communications Content” and “Your Correspondents’ Communications Content.”

13. Your Communications Content

“Your Communications Content” is the content and form of any information that you post, communicate, transmit, or direct to any third party in any manner through the use of MegaMeeting.com, or the Services, or the MegaMeeting.com Internet domain, or any subdomain, or any linked domain that is owned, controlled or operated by Internet MegaMeeting, LLC. You are solely responsible for the accuracy, lawfulness, risks and use of the content of Your Communications Content. MegaMeeting.com does not select, monitor or modify Your Communications Content. “Third party” means any person who is not any of the following: Internet MegaMeeting, LLC, or a manager, officer, employee or agent of Internet MegaMeeting, LLC while acting within the scope of such relationship with Internet MegaMeeting, LLC, or a subsidiary of Internet MegaMeeting, LLC. You also are solely responsible for the accuracy, lawfulness, risks and use of the content of your communications to Us.

14. Your Correspondents’ Communications Content

“Your Correspondents’ Communications Content” means the content and form of any information that you receive, access, take or otherwise obtain that originated from, was sent from, or was posted by any third party in any manner through MegaMeeting.com the MegaMeeting.com Services, or the MegaMeeting.com Internet domain, or any subdomain, or any linked domain that is owned, controlled or operated by Internet MegaMeeting, LLC. You and your correspondents are solely responsible for the accuracy, lawfulness, risks and use of the content of Your Correspondents’ Communications Content. MegaMeeting.com does not monitor, select or modify Your Correspondents’ Communications Content. “Third party” means any person who is not any of the following: Internet MegaMeeting, LLC, or a manager, officer, employee or agent of Internet MegaMeeting, LLC while acting within the scope of such relationship with Internet MegaMeeting, LLC, or a subsidiary of Internet MegaMeeting, LLC. You and your correspondents also are solely responsible for the accuracy, lawfulness, risks and use of the contents of Your Correspondents’ Communications Content transmitted to Us.

15. Information We Receive, Switch and Transmit.

MegaMeeting.com provides systems for the receipt, switching and transmission of Your Communications Content and Your Correspondents’ Communications Content during your sessions using the Services. This is similar in some respects to the switching of telephone calls. Where MegaMeeting has possession and control of servers on which an Enterprise Customer operates the Enterprise Software, then the Enterprise Customer has sole and exclusive responsibility for (a) the content such Enterprise Customer, any of its Hosts or users place upon and transmit through the servers, and (b) and for any security breaches or other losses or damage that are caused or enabled by such Enterprise Customer, or any of its Hosts or users. The limitations on and exclusions of liability and damages, and the indemnity, set forth in sections 34, 35 and 36 apply in all cases, whether or not MegaMeeting has possession or control of the server(s) through which Communications and information are processed.

In some cases, MegaMeeting.com Enterprise software is licensed to an Enterprise Customer who operates that software on one or more computer servers owned or controlled by the Enterprise Customer, not under the control of Internet MegaMeeting, LLC. In such cases the Enterprise Customer is solely responsible for any and all content that is transmitted through or retained in those computer servers owned or controlled by such Enterprise Customer. MegaMeeting shall have no responsibility whatsoever for any content that passes through or is retained on computer servers controlled by an Enterprise Customer, and not in the possession or control of MegaMeeting.

15.1 Limited Participation Sessions and Host-approved Participants.

15.1.1 Registered Members Act as Hosts of Limited Participation Sessions. During a session using MegaMeeting.com Personal, MegaMeeting.com Professional, or MegaMeeting.com Enterprise, MegaMeeting.com receives and transfers communications among the Host and other participants who have been approved by the Host Member to participate in that particular private session or conference ("Limited Participation" session). MegaMeeting.com records both the registration information of the Host Member and that Host Member's User ID and email address because only registered Members of MegaMeeting.com can act as Host of a Limited Participation session. As a necessary condition of participation in a Limited Participation session, MegaMeeting.com requires that each other participant supply MegaMeeting.com with a user name and a valid, functional email address with reference to which communications will be switched during that particular session.

15.1.2 Non-Host Participants in Limited Participation Sessions. To participate in a Limited Participation session a prospective participant must first log onto the MegaMeeting.com system by providing MegaMeeting.com with the prospective participant's user name and a valid, functional email address. MegaMeeting.com records the user name and email address supplied during log-on by each prospective participant in a Limited Participation session. MegaMeeting.com does not require that any participant in a Limited Participation session, other than the Host Member, be a registered member. MegaMeeting.com does not undertake to verify the validity or functionality of the email address provided by a prospective participant. However, all Members and participants are required to provide valid, functional email addresses, the products and services may not function correctly without them, and it is a violation of this Agreement for a Member or participant to supply a non-functional, fake, or impersonated email address and user name. Each prospective participant's log-on information will be recorded by MegaMeeting.com. Prospective non-Host participants either (1) can be invited to participate in a particular Limited Participation session through an email initiated by the Host through MegaMeeting.com's system, or (2) can be informed of the Host's Limited Participation session Meeting ID by means independent of MegaMeeting.com's system. The prospective participant then must log onto MegaMeeting.com's system and query the MegaMeeting.com system by manually keying in the Limited Participation session Meeting ID, and then can request participation in that Host's current or scheduled session. MegaMeeting.com forwards to the Host of a particular session the logged-on user name and email address of each prospective participant who has requested participation with reference to that Host's registered email address. The Host of that particular Limited Participation session then must affirmatively select which of the logged-on user names and email addresses are approved for participation in that Host's particular Limited Participation session and must transmit back to MegaMeeting.com the Host's affirmative approval of the selected user names and email addresses. Thus MegaMeeting.com normally will have identifiable Membership registration information for the logged-on user name and email address of a non-Host participant only if, coincidentally, a non-Host participant also happens to be a registered Member and has used that identical user name and email address to register as a Member. All non-Host participants must agree to this Agreement in order to participate in a Limited Participation session.

16. IP Addresses Received and Recorded

Every user's browser as part of the automatic network protocol reports its IP (Internet Port) address to the MegaMeeting.com website each time a web page is viewed and we may record and store some or all of these IP addresses as well as a listing of the web pages requested using a particular IP address. Your IP address may be stored in our data base when you register for Membership, or if you participate in a Limited Participation session.

17. MegaMeeting.com Not Obligated to Verify User Names, Email Addresses or Identities

Because a user name and email address are used to route communications among computers, and because computers communicate with each other by coded network addresses, the combination of a user name and email address might, but does not necessarily, identify a particular person. MegaMeeting.com ordinarily does not and usually cannot verify or authenticate email addresses and does not undertake any obligation to you to do so. MegaMeeting.com does not and usually cannot verify or control the identity of the natural persons who have access to or control the particular computers that are identified by an IP address or email address supplied to MegaMeeting.com for computer-routing purposes and we do not undertake any obligation to you to do so.

It is the responsibility and risk of the Host Member to use whatever identification measures the Host thinks appropriate and prudent when the Host supplies its registered address for delivery to prospective participants and when the Host approves a particular user name and email address for participation in a Host's particular Limited Participation session. Similarly, it is the responsibility and risk of a prospective participant when using a Host's email address, and when supplying MegaMeeting.com with the prospective participant's email address and User Name for delivery to a Host, to use such measures as the prospective participant thinks appropriate and prudent to identify and verify whom it will be dealing with in a session, including without limitation the Host and other participants in the session.

We reserve the right, for protection of ourselves and our systems, to use whatever lawful means may be at our disposal to attempt to verify any IP (Internet Port) address, email address, or other identification information of any Member, participant, user or visitor.

EULA

18. Contents Of Host and Participant Communications Are Transitory in Limited Participation Sessions; Host's Choice to Record or Not; No Long-term Archival Storage

During Limited Participation sessions, communications among the Host and other participants are transitorily resident within the automatic switching systems, computer memory, and any temporary on-line parallel or concurrent backup systems of MegaMeeting.com and our Internet Service Providers ("ISPs"). Each Limited Participation session is generally limited not to exceed ten consecutive days, and most will have much shorter duration.

Within Limited Participation sessions all transmission of communications is initiated or directed by the Host and other participants, not by MegaMeeting.com. Communication content is transmitted among the Host and other participants automatically based upon the Host's selection of participants. The transmission, routing, provision of connections, and any storage of content is done at the direction of the Host and other participants, and material is transmitted by automatic technical processes without selection or modification of the content by MegaMeeting.com.

MegaMeeting.com offers to some Hosts, using MegaMeeting.com software, a capability to record onto MegaMeeting.com servers the Communication content of a session. The Host thereafter can download the recorded Communication content from MegaMeeting's computers to the Host's computer. The Host then can deal with the recorded matter at the Host's discretion without any supervision or controls by MegaMeeting. MegaMeeting does not claim any ownership or control of the recorded Communication content, but leaves those issues exclusively to the Host that chose to record the matter, except in the rare case where MegaMeeting might claim rights to particular content independently of the Host's session, such as by trademark, copyright or patent. The decision whether to record or not is made by the Host, not by MegaMeeting. The MegaMeeting recording capability is designed to automatically post a notice on the computer screen of each prospective participant that a Host has elected to record the particular session. A prospective participant should not enter the session if the prospective participant does not wish to be recorded. Similarly, any participant can terminate participation in a recorded session at any time, though any recording made by a Host before termination will remain on MegaMeeting's computers, available for download by the Host of the session. MegaMeeting automatically deletes recorded matter from MegaMeeting's operating computers after a limited period of time, which may be less than 30 days, unless the Host who recorded the material contracts with MegaMeeting to store such recorded material for a longer duration while the Host maintains an account in good standing with MegaMeeting. Where a Host has contracted with MegaMeeting to store recordings, MegaMeeting reserves the right to delete recorded materials 30 days after an account terminates or goes into default status (such as for failure to pay charges when due, recording volume in excess of that for which the Host has contracted and paid, expiration of any limited period for which MegaMeeting promised storage, or for material breach of other terms of this Agreement). It is a Host's choice and responsibility to download recorded matter that a Host wishes to preserve before that matter is deleted by MegaMeeting. MegaMeeting disclaims any responsibility for the contents, quality of recording, failure to successfully record, loss, destruction or deletion of matter that a Host chooses to record. A Host that chooses to record matter is solely responsible for insuring that such recordation complies with the laws and regulations of any governmental authority having jurisdiction over any portion of the communications.

EULA

MegaMeeting.com does not otherwise record, backup, or archive the contents of Host and participant communications during a Limited Participation session, except as is technically necessary for that particular Limited Participation session, and those contents then are dissipated from MegaMeeting.com's systems either during or upon termination of a particular Limited Participation session. Except for recording made at the choice of the Host of a particular session, no copy of Your Communications Content or Your Correspondents' Communication Content during Limited Participation sessions is maintained or stored on the MegaMeeting.com system or network in a manner that ordinarily would be accessible to any third party other than the Host and participants selected by the Host for a particular Limited Participation session.

After termination of a particular session no copy that has been maintained by MegaMeeting.com during a particular Limited Participation session remains ordinarily accessible to the Host or other participants for a longer period than is reasonably necessary for that Limited Participation session, except what a Host has chosen to record.

The Host and other participants are entirely responsible for any recordation, archiving, or other backup of their own content, and may do so only as permitted by applicable law. If a Host has not chosen to record Communication content, then after completion of a particular Limited Participation session the only information that is retained by design at MegaMeeting.com with reference to that Limited Participation session is a record that the Host's session took place, which may include the time, and the user names, email addresses and IP addresses supplied by the Host, participants and prospective participants for that session.

MegaMeeting.com does not monitor the content of Host and participant communications either during Limited Participation sessions or thereafter where a Host has chosen to record content. The Host and participants bear sole responsibility, risk and liability for the content of their communications and for the identification and selection of recipients of their communications. The Host and participants in a Limited Participation session are responsible for determining and resolving among themselves rights related to the content of sessions, whether or not recorded.

26. Your Editing and Deletion of Your User Information

MegaMeeting.com provides ways for you to edit Your Information and preferences. To do so, please log into your account using your Membership ID and password. If you have any questions regarding your preferences or other aspects of Your User Information, then email support@MegaMeeting.com.

EULA

You also may request that your MegaMeeting.com registration and Membership be terminated and deleted by sending an email to admin@MegaMeeting.com. To aid fraud prevention, termination and deletion may be deferred for up to 90 days after you instruct termination. Please see the topic Archival Retention of Your Information to read about what information may remain in archived records after termination of your registration and Membership.

27. Archival Retention of Your Information

MegaMeeting, for its own benefit, in order to protect its systems against failures and loss of data and to enable resumption and continuation of the Services with minimal disruption and down time, may maintain parallel, redundant, backup, or other archival systems (“Archived User Information.”) which may vary from time to time depending upon the technology then in use by us; but MegaMeeting does not promise to operate or maintain such systems for your benefit. Such systems are designed to archive information which can be recalled. As a matter of course during operation of our systems Your Information is likely to be included in Archived User Information. When your registration and Membership are terminated in our currently active databases, there may remain pre-existing copies of Your Information in Archived User Information that is being held more or less independently of the currently active databases and from which Your Information therefore will not have been deleted. However, such Archived User Information also is subjected to routine deletion and replacement with more recent material without notice to you and without any responsibility to you. Reasonable efforts will be made to promptly include your termination request in the most current Archived User Information so that your termination instruction will be honored. However, it is possible that in the event of loss or damage of the currently active databases, older Archived User Information which still contains Your Information will be used to restore service, thereby resulting in restoration of Your Information in what then becomes the currently active databases. You agree to accept this risk and your sole remedy in such an event will be to again request termination of your registration and Membership. Even when you request termination of your account, it will be necessary for MegaMeeting.com to maintain some limited records of your transactions with MegaMeeting.com. For example, we may maintain some identifying information concerning you to keep a record of your request for termination of your account as well as records of our prior transactions with you for our financial and tax reporting purposes.
